LIFE SKILL ACTIVITIES WITH CHILDREN

Through engaging and participatory life-skill activities that happened every other day, children were encouraged to develop essential skills such as effective communication, teamwork, public speaking, critical thinking, leadership, and accountability.

The sessions provided a safe and supportive space for children to express their ideas, listen to others, work collaboratively, take initiatives, and make thoughtful decisions.

What looked like simple games became meaningful lessons, as children discovered how to communicate, think, decide and work together through play. These experiences are helping them grow not only as confident individuals but also as responsible and active members of their families and communities.

SEPTEMBER - OCTOBER 2026

Alongside our ongoing interventions, InSIDE-North East continues to engage in initiatives beyond its designated project areas, responding to emerging needs while strengthening relationships and partnerships with communities, organizations, and other stakeholders.

These efforts, though outside the specific intervention areas of current projects, contribute to InSIDE-North East broader organizational mission by extending support where needed, expanding collaboration, and building stronger networks for collective action and sustainable impact.

Children proudly presented their creative crafts to their parents and fellow children, sharing what they had learned about the importance of trees, water, and the environment. Through their presentations, they reflected on why caring for and protecting God's creation is a shared responsibility. The activity encouraged children to express their creativity while nurturing environmental awareness and a sense of stewardship from an early age.

NaRMaC SEED BANK RENOVATION

"PRESERVING SEEDS FOR FUTURE"

Members of NaRMaC came together to renovate and strengthen their community seed bank, reaffirming their commitment to preserving locally adapted organic seeds for the coming seasons and for generations to come.

Through collective ownership and traditional knowledge, the seed bank serves as more than a place for storing seeds- it represents an investment in food security, sustainable agriculture, and a resilient future for the community.

The initiative reflects a growing community-led choice to embrace organic and sustainable farming practices over approaches that may compromise soil health, biodiversity, and long-term agricultural well-being.

MUSIC FOR HEALING

18th September 2026

"Music for Healing" was organized in the Bungpi area buffer zone, creating a safe and welcoming space for children and youth to pause, connect, and express themselves. Amid fear, uncertainty, and insecurity, many have been living in the buffer zone for an extended period. Through music, creative expression, and shared moments, the session offered them an opportunity to release stress, express their emotions, and experience a sense of joy and belonging. Because sometimes, healing begins when we have a safe space to simply be, express, and be heard.

Gun2Pen

INVESTING IN YOUTH!

23rd September 2026

As part of the Gun2Pen initiative, young people from conflict-affected communities were supported to pursue higher education and acquire skills through specialised training institutions. This initiative seeks to create pathways for youth to move beyond the limitations of their circumstances, equipping them with knowledge, skills, and opportunities to build a more secure future.

A recent visit to the institutions where the youths are pursuing their studies and skill training, along with a meeting with the Management who has been supporting and guiding them, brought renewed hope and encouragement.

The visit was more than a follow-up—it was a reminder that when young people are given opportunities, trust, and the right support, they can transform not only their own lives but also inspire change within their communities.

Staff Review Meeting

30-SEPTEMBER 2026

The team came together for a staff review meeting, with both office-based and remotely working team members joining online. Listening to one another became an important part of the session. It reminded us that a strong team is not one without weaknesses, but one that is willing to listen, understand, and lift each other up.

It was more than just a review session- ultimately, it became a moment to pause, look back at the milestones we had achieved, reflect on the challenges along the way, and learn from them.

25th Batch - Vocational Skill Training

The new batch of tailoring trainees has begun with unprecedented enthusiasm. Bringing together learners from diverse age groups, the classroom is already buzzing with fresh ideas, shared experiences, and a willingness to learn from one another.

As part of their curriculum, the trainees are starting with the basics of measuring and cutting, using old newspapers for their initial practice. This hands-on approach not only helps them develop tailoring skills but also introduces them to the importance of recycling, resourcefulness, and environmental preservation from the very beginning.
